

No Door Shut

No Door Shut: Diversity in the Workplace

What is it about?

Workplaces are often one of the most diverse of environments bringing a unique set of challenges and dilemmas. We explore how personal identity is supported by shared language and ways of communicating. The course investigates how a developed and secure and positive sense of individual identities can develop whole organisations.

What will I get out of it?

- Develop an understanding of all the issues relating to diversity
- Be equipped to get the very best out of a workforce with different values, attitudes and behaviours.
- Develop a comprehensive understanding of all the issues relating to diversity in the workplace.